

MWGA Re-Elects Officers During Annual Convention

The Montana Wool Growers Association (MWGA) is pleased to report the re-election of its President and 3 directors. The re-elected directors and officers were approved by MWGA's membership during the Association's 133rd Annual Convention, which was held in Billings on December 2nd and 3rd. Dave McEwen, sheep and cattle rancher from Galata, was re-elected as President of the Association. Kevin Halverson of Big Timber, Duane Talcott of Hammond, and Sam Ortmann of Wolf Point were also re-elected to serve 3 year terms on the MWGA Board of Directors.